Faithful Democrats, an Online Community of Christians Dedicated to the Common Good, Endorses Travis Childers for his Commitment to a More Just and Compassionate Form of Politics

We are pleased to announce that Faithful Democrats (www.faithfuldemocrats.com) has endorsed Travis Childers as Faithful Democrats Candidate of the Day on 10/22/2008.

Faithful Democrats is an online Christian community dedicated to working for the common good. Inspired by the lessons found in Scriptures, we believe that pursuing justice and compassion is not only morally right but is also the basis for sound and successful governmental policies. In the midst of these difficult times, our nation faces a truly decisive election: one in which serious decisions face each of us that will determine the direction of our country. The Faithful Democrats community calls upon our fellow Americans to ask not only whether we are better off now than we were when we last voted; more vitally, we also urge voters to ask the more searching questions about how all of us, especially the weak and vulnerable, will be better off in the years ahead.

With these as our guiding principles, we proudly endorse Travis Childers to represent MS-01 in the 2008 General Election. We stand with Travis Childers based upon his commitment to living out his Christian faith through a life of public service. In running a dignified and respectable campaign, we commend Travis Childers for staying focused on the issues that truly matter rather than relying on the divisive and destructive politics that have become all too common. This type of politics has left our nation financially and ethically bankrupt, has cheapened the American Dream and laid ruin to the hopes of so many of our fellow citizens, and has potentially mortgaged our future and forfeited our ability to leave a better world for our children. We at Faithful Democrats believe that these troubled times can only be improved through the democratic process. Now more than ever, we must recommit to the values that make this nation great; in so doing, we encourage our fellow Americans to vote for Travis Childers based upon his ability to shed light upon a different path to lead us out of these dark times.

The choices that we must make on the economy, healthcare, veterans' issues, education, the environment and the many other concerns facing our nation are all moral issues. As a part of the careful, heartfelt considerations that each and every American across the nation will take into account when choosing our country's leadership on November 4th, the Faithful Democrats community commends the voters of MS-01 for having elected Travis Childers during this year's special election. Travis Childers represents the very best of the principles and values that we believe will restore America's greatness.

For his Christian example of faith and deeds in the name of the common good, we endorse Travis Childers to represent MS-01 in the House of Representatives. Travis Childers' background is one of industry, self-reliance and public service. Faithful Democrats has been proud to support his candidacy based upon the values and perspective that he has demonstrated over and over again throughout his career. Travis Childers has often proclaimed that much of the success that North Mississippi has had in economic development, education and healthcare is due largely to the fact that local officials in this region recognize that our fate is a shared fate. He understands the importance of working across regional, governmental, and party lines to get things done for North Mississippi. As congressman, Faithful Democrats knows that Childers will bring Mississippi's values and can-do attitude to Washington. Childers has been married for 27 years to the former Tami Gibson, and the couple has two children – Dustin, a second-year law student at Mississippi College, and Lauren, a sophomore at Ole Miss. They all are members of East Booneville Baptist Church. For his example of committed self-sacrifice and values-based public service, we at Faithful Democrats are proud to endorse Travis Childers.

We are confident that with leaders like Travis Childers in office, this nation can come together to restore and strengthen our economy, turning away from greed and materialism and towards a more compassionate vision of economic and social justice in America. We at Faithful Democrats believe that the selfish political games we have witnessed must no longer be tolerated and that we cannot afford to play with the futures of our children by continuing with more of the same. We are confident that his public service will inspire Americans in MS-01 and across our great land, bringing a sense of integrity and sensible solutions to Washington, restoring the promise of this great land, and returning us to our values during these troubled times.
